Saturday was a cold day, with lots of water left over from some significant storms that passed through the area in the past few days, and the quality of play for the Skins match would reflect the conditions. Pete and Matt hit the tenth fairway but still had a ways to go without benefit of any roll from their tee shots. Pete ended up on the back collar of the green while Matt stayed on the putting surface, ten feet from the cup. Pete's first putt got caught in the water and he was left with a long putt for par, and when he could not convert the first skin went to Matt who made his four. Nobody found the green on eleven although Ray and Phil were on the left collar with their tee shots, but the first evidence of sloppy play showed itself when nobody could save par and a skin was pushed to the next hole. Pete was in the woods on twelve while Ray and Matt were down the fairway, Ray in the middle and Matt to the right. Pete hit a great second shot to the front edge of the green, Matt about ten feet left of the cup and Ray with the best approach to four feet. But nobody could make their birdie and pars halved the hole, making the thirteenth hole worth three skins. Phil and Ray were in the woods and not a factor on thirteen, but Pete and Matt both found the fairway from the tee. Both players sprayed a bit right on their approach shots, Pete in the rough and Matt in the new grass bunker. Matt chipped six feet above the hole and left himself with a downhill sliding putt for par, which he missed. Pete hit a better chip, stopping just two feet to the left of the hole, and when he made his own sliding putt for par, Pete took the lead with three skins. Matt was virtually conceded the fourteenth after each of the other players found significant trouble at various points in the hole, and his routine par won a skin and narrowed Pete's lead. Nobody landed on the green on fifteen, another sign of sloppiness. Ray had perhaps the toughest chip from a downhill lie to the left, but he flopped a beauty to four feet and sank his putt after all the others had missed, winning his first skin with a par. Pete and Matt competed for the skin on sixteen, Pete approaching to the green with a beautiful five wood out of the rough and Matt landing in the right side bunker. After Matt could not save his par with a missed six-foot putt, Pete's two-putt four won another skin to give him four for the day and at least a guaranteed share of the daily victory. The seventeenth hole proved interesting...Phil, with an extra stroke, played two excellent shots to within one hundred yards. Pete was in the left side woods, Ray and Matt in the fairway but a long way away. Matt and Ray chipped to about ten feet while Phil stopped four feet past the cup. After Ray made his par putt, it put pressure on Phil who now had to make his comeback attempt to win the hole, but he slid past the cup and the hole was tied. This left two skins available on eighteen and many possibilities....a tie for second if Phil could win, outright second for Ray, a tie for first for Matt and a clinching victory for Pete. But sloppiness carried the day and the result would be none of the aforementioned possibilities. Phil and Ray were pretty much out of the hole after their tee shots, but Pete and Matt were in the fairway. It looked to be over when Matt stayed right on his approach, settling in between the traps, and Pete following with a good shot to twelve feet left. Matt needed (or thought he needed) to make his chip, but he was pin high and three feet right. Needing two putts to secure the victory, Pete uncharacteristically looked up on his first putt and stubbed it, leaving himself a good four feet for par. He rimmed the cup and came back out the front side, leaving the door open for Matt, who would win two skins and tie Pete for the day if he made his pretty straight three footer. But a lack of concentration and a pulled putt from short distance gave Matt a bogey as well, so the hole was halved and no skins awarded. That left Pete with four skins and the daily victory, followed by Matt, Ray and Phil.
